

PI claims and the dying plaintiff

Tuesday 17 July 2018 | 12.30–1.30pm

Online

Overview

This In Focus livecast examines the law relating to claims for damages for the dying plaintiff, the issues practitioners should consider when advising whether to proceed with a claim (or not), the issue of making a dependency claim vs reduced claim for damages for personal injuries, and the evidence you need to collect from your client to protect any claim.

1 CPD Point

12.20pm Registration

12.30pm PI claims and the dying plaintiff

This In Focus livecast examines the law relating to claims for damages for the dying plaintiff, the issues practitioners should consider when advising whether to proceed with a claim (or not), the issue of making a dependency claim vs reduced claim for damages for personal injuries, and the evidence you need to collect from your client to protect any claim.

Gerard Mullins, Barrister, Queensland Bar

Sarah Atkinson, Principal, Maurice Blackburn

Host: Sandra Pepper, Legal Professional Development Executive, Learning and Professional Development, Queensland Law Society

1.30pm Close