

Early career lawyers strategies for success

Recorded: 26 February 2019 | 1 hour
2018/2019 or 2019/2020 CPD year

Overview

We all make a few big mistakes in those first few years of practice. But wouldn't it be great if you could skip that often embarrassing rite of passage and get the tips you need straight away? Our expert presenters will share a few war stories and the important things they wish they'd known when they first started practice.

Early career lawyer strategies for success

This session is designed for newly admitted and early career lawyers to support those early years of practice and to give you the tips you need to set yourself up for career success. Our panel of experienced practitioners will cover the following topics:

- engaging and building rapport with your clients by not being afraid to discuss costs
- how to take care of (and keep) your existing clients
- developing and honing an analytical process to tackle novel problems
- evaluating and addressing what is working and what isn't working (if you find yourself in a job that doesn't meet your career goals)
- strategies and resources you can use to look after your wellbeing as a junior lawyer.

Panellists:

Chloe Kopilovic, Councillor, Queensland Law Society and Senior Associate, fc lawyers

Dan Rogers, Principal, Robertson O'Gorman Solicitors; Accredited Specialist (Criminal Law) – Qld and member, Queensland Law Society Ethics Committee

Clarissa Rayward, Collaborative Family Lawyer & Family Mediator, Brisbane Family Law Centre and Accredited Specialist - Family Law

Chair: Nick Knowlman, Lawyer, Thynne & Macartney and Deputy Chair, Queensland Law Society Early Career Lawyers Committee
