

Legal ethics and morality: A modern case study

Recorded: 4 August 2021 | 1 hour 10 minutes
2021/2022 CPD year

Overview

The Courts and the Profession in England and Wales have been rocked by the legal, ethical and corporate failures that have arisen from the Post Office Horizon IT scandal. Paul Marshall Esquire has described the scandal as the most serious series of miscarriages of justice in recent times. Join our panel to explore the interactions of law, legal ethics and morality as they examine the failures within the Post Office, the importance of understanding technology and how these miscarriages of justice have lessons for the Australian profession.

1 CPD Points

HOT TOPIC

1hour
10mins

Legal ethics and morality: A modern case study

The Courts and the Profession in England and Wales have been rocked by the legal, ethical and corporate failures that have arisen from the Post Office Horizon IT scandal. Paul Marshall Esquire has described the scandal as the most serious series of miscarriages of justice in recent times. Join our panel to explore the interactions of law, legal ethics and morality as they examine the failures within the Post Office, the importance of understanding technology and how these miscarriages of justice have lessons for the Australian profession.

Panellists:

Paul Marshall, Barrister, UK Bar

Kiri Parr, Director, Kiri Parr Pty Ltd and Member, Queensland Law Society Ethics Committee

Lionel Hogg, Partner, Gadens

Chair: Stafford Shepherd, Principal Ethics and Practice Counsel, QLS Ethics and Practice Centre |
Legal Practitioner Director, QLS Solicitor Support Pty Ltd Queensland Law Society
