Presenters

David Bowles

Special Counsel, QLS Ethics
and Practice Centre,
Queensland Law Society

David was admitted as a solicitor in 1996 and was in private practice from that time until joining Queensland Law Society's QLS Ethics and Practice Centre in November 2012.

David's experience, initially as an employee and then as a sole practitioner includes crime, property, litigation and estate planning. As an ethics solicitor he is responsible for providing ethical guidance to members, and continuing legal education.

He holds postgraduate certificates in Cybersecurity from Harvard University Extension School, in Project Management from the University of Adelaide EdX program and is a director of the Australasian Computer Law Institute.

Shane Budden

Special Counsel, Ethics QLS
Ethics and Practice Centre,
Queensland Law Society

Shane is a Special Counsel Ethics in the QLS Ethics and Practice Centre / QLS Solicitor Support Pty Ltd, and provides ethical guidance and instruction to practitioners. He contributes significantly to the QLS Journal Proctor, both through his regular column and by authoring feature articles.

Shane was admitted in 1992 and worked in general practice with a focus on criminal law, before moving to in-house work, initially with the Ipswich City Council internal legal team. Prior to joining QLS he headed up the internal legal team at the Queensland Building Construction Commission/Queensland Building Services Authority and was Chair of the Society's Government Lawyers Committee.

Denise Marshall

Legal Workplace and Culture
Consultant, Queensland Law
Society

Denise has more than fifteen years' experience working in senior learning and organisation development roles in law firms in Australia and the UK. She has designed and facilitated a range of programs and workshops, including leadership development, performance management, on-boarding, and team events, and has also designed curriculum for trainees and junior lawyers and developed capability frameworks.

Denise has presented at partnership, departmental and mental health conferences and is an accredited coach. She has been an active member of various mental health and wellbeing groups within firms and is an accredited Mental Health First Aid Instructor.

Denise supports the Wellbeing Working Group and the Equity and Diversity Committee at the Queensland Law Society.

David Willett

Chief Information Security,
Risk and Workplace
Technology Officer, PEXA

David Willett is the Chief Information Security Officer (CISO) and has been with PEXA since January 2019. David leads PEXA's growing IT Security team, with the responsibility of maintaining the security of the PEXA platform and the 8,000 plus members who use it.

David's experience in Security spans close to 15 years, which includes the delivery of Managed Security Services to multiple Australian Federal Government Departments and commercial enterprises in the Financial Services Industry.

This has afforded David the opportunity to assume multiple roles within the IT Service Delivery and Cyber Security spaces both operationally focused and customer facing. David has broad experience with managing a Cyber Security Program and has worked in roles both as an individual contributor and others that have also required him to lead teams of up to forty network/security engineers, team leaders and Security Operations Centre (SOC) analysts.
